Welcome to our Paper session:

We own the school: A World Wide Network on “Ownership of Learning”

TAXONOMY OF OWNERSHIP

We are focussing at the school level.

We developed a model, a taxonomy of ownership, derived from the work of John Macbeath on distributed leadership.

Welcome to our Paper session:

We own the school: A World Wide Network on “Ownership of Learning”

TAXONOMY OF OWNERSHIP

In our model we described 6 types of schools where “ownership” has a different meaning and creates a different educational practise.

3. TAXONOMY OF OWNERSHIP

FORMAL

The distribution of roles and tasks in the school is traditional

PRAGMATIC

Roles, tasks and responsibilities are assigned in ad hoc.

STRATEGIC

A planned and systematic distribution of roles, tasks and responsibilities.

TAXONOMY OF OWNERSHIP

INCREMENTAL

Roles and tasks are divided with the aim of enhancing student ownership.

COMPETENT

Here the ownership is more shared than divided.

CULTURAL

Shared ownership is deeply anchored in practice and thinking.

3. TAXONOMY OF OWNERSHIP

Create an International Network of SOL ambassadors

Why?

- To create debate about ownership of learning among educators.
- To to enlarge our “community of ownership”.
- To deepen our understanding of education in connected countries North / South - Worldwide.

Create an International Network of SOL ambassadors

For example:

FORMAL - The traditional school

- The teacher takes the lead and the students follow
- The organization is at the forefront and the ownership of the students is coincidental.
- Hierarchy prevails and is experienced as supportive.
- Delegation of responsibilities is executed through a top-down structure with clear procedures.
- The working atmosphere portrays accountability and regularity.
- Knowing and performing the defined roles and tasks is welcomed and practiced as a norm.
- Assignments are performed from a sound discipline.
- Safety and reliability remain core values of the school.
